ORGAN WITH SPECIAL SERVICES*Fire Destroys N. L.
Home and Contents

A fire which started from an overheated coal stove totally destroyed a home and all the contents in New Lenox, Saturday night. Mrs. Stella Stephens has been living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Pukis, in the three and one-half room frame home on Cooper street. As she was putting her daughter Linda, 5 years old, to bed about 7:30 she noticed that the house was extremely hot and about that time the fire broke out. The New Lenox and Mokena fire departments were called but the fire had gained so much headway that it was impossible to save any thing. The house is owned by Mrs. Pukis' sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Pack, whose home is located about 100 feet from the burned building.

The building loss is partially covered by insurance but no insurance was carried on the furnishings or clothing and the family lost everything except the clothing they were wearing. They are staying with the Pack's at the present time. Mr. Pukis, who is not employed, is looking for work. Mrs. Stephens is employed by the Deaton-Kennedy Calendar company of Joliet.

200 Chickens Die in Blaze at 40&8 Camp

The 40 and 8 Convalescent camp at Orland Park was the scene of a large fire Friday night when an overheated stove caused a fire in the chicken house. The Orland Fire department was called. About 200 chickens were destroyed and chicken feed valued at $272.00, which had just been stored in the building, was burned. Half the building was ruined and will have to be rebuilt. Part of this loss was covered by insurance.

The Orland firemen were also called about 11 o'clock Friday morning to a fire at 100th and Harlem in Columbus Manor.

Mistakes Will Happen—Or See What We Mean?

The typographical error is a slippery thing and sly. You can hunt till you are dizzy, but it somehow gets by. Till the forms are off the presses it is strange how still it keeps. It shrinks down into a corner and it never sits or peeps. The typographical error, too small for human eyes. Till the ink is on the paper, when it grows to mountain size. The boss he stares with horror, then he grabs his hair and groans. The copyreader drops his head upon his hands and moans. The remainder of the issue may be clean as clean can be. But that typographical error is the only thing you see.—From November issue of Rock Island Lines News Digest.

ORLAND CLASS TO PRESENT ENTERTAINING 3 ACT COMEDY

On Saturday, December 2, at 8 o'clock, the Junior Class of the Orland Park high school will present a delightful three-act comedy, "January Thaw."

You'll love every member of the Gage family, who seek peace in an old, remodeled farmhouse. There, the mother remodels coffee-grinders into lamps. The father does his best to write a "best seller" in spite of countless interruptions, and the Gage children enjoy life without restraint. The fun starts when Jonathan and Mathilda Rockwood, ably played by Stuart Bowyer and Marcia Callahan, arrive to take advantage of their right to live in the old house as long as they wish. It takes a heap of living for the two families to reconcile their ideas but, of course, that's what makes the play.

Joan Sippel plays the part of an independent maid; Warren Ahnel is the harried father; Barbara Good

Mokena People
Learn of Relative's
Death in Korean War

A Korean war casualty came close to Mokena last week with the news of the death of Cpl. Al Brinkmeyer.

As his mother and her sister Mrs. Herta Packard were foster children in the home of the late Rev. William Kreis and Mrs. Marie Kreis, they are one of the family and a sister of Mrs. Roy Kropp.

Mrs. Packard's son Cpl. Dale Packard and his cousin were both in the second infantry on duty near the Manchurian border. Cpl. Packard wrote his mother that he had gone to spend a few hours with Cpl. Brinkmeyer when he was told there had been a terrific explosion in his barracks previously, and he was burned to death, unable to escape from the burning building.

Cpl. Brinkmeyer, who would have been 26 years old on December 23, served 18 months on Okinawa. He visited the Kropp family and Mrs. Kreis last May in Mokena upon his discharge from duty. He was recalled in July and has been for some time in the fighting line in Korea. His parents live in St. Louis. Mrs. Packard, of Chicago, brought the news when she spent Thanksgiving with the Mokena people.

Tinley Man in Seoul Battle in Korea

Among Marines who fought for the liberation of Seoul was Sgt. Paul A. Schmidt, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schmidt, 17601 Oak Park ave., Tinley Park.

His wife, Mrs. Alice Schmidt, is currently living in San Francisco.

The Illinois Marine, a graduate of Thornton Township high school and former student at Northwestern university, is a member of Weapons company, First Battalion, Seventh Marines. The Seventh Marines is an infantry regiment of the First Marine Division. It was the Seventh Marines that war correspondents dubbed "the ridge runners" during the battle for Seoul. The unit earned that title in a sweep along the mountains north-west of the capital to trap the city's garrison. After the fall of Seoul, the regiment wheeled northward and advanced to Uijongbu.

With the Seventh Marines, Schmidt is now engaged in the battle for Choson Reservoir, last UN major goal short of the Manchurian border.

Schmidt, a veteran of World War II, was employed by the Rock Island railroad until his recall to active duty.

Driver Hurt When Car Skids on Ice

While driving home on 167th St., from the Tinley Park Dairy, after delivering milk on his route, Thursday noon, Thanksgiving day, Donald Cleveland met with an accident. The car hit a piece of ice and turned over into a ditch and into a plowed field bottom side up. He was thrown to the back seat.

Clarence Bettenhausen and his son were the first ones passing the scene and heard Don calling for someone to get him out of the car. A fellow employee from the dairy was called who took Don home from where he was taken to the Little Company of Mary hospital for x-rays.

He suffered a slight concussion, fractured shoulder, lost a front tooth and five stitches were necessary to close a cut under the left eye. He was allowed to return home where he is recuperating nicely.

The top of his car is badly damaged.

Reasons for Milk
Price Increase

As a result of petition filed by Pure Milk Association, October 13 with the United States Department of Agriculture, a hearing to consider increasing premiums for all farmers delivering milk to various Suburban and Chicago marketing areas will be held in the Sherman Hotel, Chicago, starting, at 10:00 o'clock, the morning of Monday, December 4.

Testimony to be presented by Pure Milk Association officials will include evidence substantiating the Association's request for a consolidation of Federal Orders 41 and 69, and for increase in premiums over manufacturing prices for various months. The Association's request for an increase in income for dairy farmers is based on various factors including a shortage of milk this fall, increase in dairy-men's costs, and the need for higher milk prices, especially in the fall months, to enable farmers to divert production from Spring to Fall.

The Association represents 15,292 dairy farmers operating farms in 63 counties in parts of Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan.

HOLD TAXPAYERS TOWN MEETINGS TO GET OPINION ON TAX BOOST

The first of a statewide series of Taxpayer Town Meetings was held in Aurora November 16, by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois in connection with major legislation which will be considered by the 1951 Illinois General Assembly, convening January 3.

The second meeting of the series will be held at Elgin November 30, the third at Joliet December 7. Other meetings are scheduled through April, 1951. Seventeen such meetings were held by the Federation in connection with the 1949 General Assembly.

Members of the General Assembly from the senatorial district in which each meeting is held are invited to attend so they can learn for themselves how their constituents feel on major tax problems.

The meetings are open to the public and free of charge. In order to be sure of a cross-section attendance representative of all taxpayers, the Taxpayers' Federation sent announcements of the Aurora meeting, for example, to every seventh property owner in the Aurora City Directory, totaling more than 1500. At the meetings, after discussion a ballot is taken on a number of major legislative questions affecting taxpayers. From the balloting at these meetings, the Taxpayers' Federation can determine its policies and know that it is, in fact, representing what the taxpayers of Illinois want.

The broad questions on which a vote will be taken at these meetings, after discussion, are: Do you believe the State Motor Fuel Tax (now 3c a gallon) needs to be increased? Do you believe that the State government needs more money to provide essential services, other than highways, and should be voted increased tax income by the

With the newly elected county officers who will be sworn into office next Monday, December 4, few changes will be made in the personnel of the offices in the court house at Joliet.

Byron Hunt, Beecher banker, who will be the new treasurer, has announced there will be one new member to that office. He will be Leonard M. Kochevar, Joliet, World War II veteran. He will replace William Maxwell who was the unsuccessful candidate for the GOP nomination for treasurer. All other members of the present staff will remain with Ernest A. Carlson of Joliet serving as chief deputy.

Mr. Hunt stated he was desirous of having a group in the treasurer's office who would work well together. He said he wants the office to be a real servant to the taxpayers of Will County.

In the sheriff's office, incoming sheriff Ernest E. Overbey, said that age was one of the main reasons for the changes in that office. Of the five deputies remaining on the job, Roy Doerfler, 44, of Joliet is the oldest.

Besides Doerfler, those remaining in office will be Charles Crawford, 25, Wilmington; Steve Nellis, 27, LaVerne; Lauffer, 32 and Joseph Birsa all of Joliet.

New deputies appointed will be, William Archibald, 38, Joliet, now employed at the American Loading company in Chicago; Gerald J. Bispington, 26, Peotone; garage mechanic; George W. Gurley, 26, Joliet, gasoline station attendant and John Shelly, 23, Joliet, employed at an A & P store. Elton Pyle, Troy town clerk, will be chief deputy.

Jailers which Mr. Overbey has chosen will be John Poldak, 1122 Ridgewood, Joliet, now employed at the Joliet arsenal; Stanley Drake New Lenox, now employed at the Dreis & Krump Mfg. co., at Mokena; Chris Sangmeister, formerly of Frankfort and former superintendent of the county farm; James F. Anderson, Joliet, now employed by Joliet city department.

Mr. Overbey expects to retain Gustave Zitzke, Joliet, as court-house engineer and the present char women will be retained.

St. John's Carnival Is Well Attended

The carnival given by St. John's Sunday school, Friday night drew a large crowd and provided entertainment for the Sunday school pupils who were given free tickets for treats and many of the amusements. Movies were shown by the pastor, Rev. W. J. Riemann, and Adolph Steen.

Chairmen who helped make this an outstanding affair were Mrs. E. Dunham, shooting gallery, No. 1; Miss Violet Hurley, shooting gallery, No. 2; Mrs. G. Doctor, fish pond; Mrs. H. Lorenz, photographic sketches; Mrs. V. Kuehl, peep show; Mrs. Wesley Cappel, nursery fish pond; Mrs. D. Ronan, candy and pop corn stand; and Miss Juanita Brueser, pop stand.

The carnival was given in place of a Sunday school picnic that didn't materialize last summer and was enjoyed by the adults as well as the children. The following committee made the arrangements, Mrs. W. A. Muehler, Mrs. H. Lorenz, Miss Lois Mancke and Mrs. Kropp, chairman.

General Assembly? Should a new County Assessment Supervisor law be enacted? Should the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois continue its opposition to State aid to cities? Should the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois continue to oppose any legislation authorizing cities or other governmental units to levy new taxes or raise the limits on present taxes without referendum approval of the people? Should existing laws be amended to make it possible to find out who is receiving public assistance, and the amounts received?

Federal, State and local governments are getting plenty of money now from present tax sources, and the 1951 Illinois General Assembly should concentrate on finding ways to curtail spending and cut taxes rather than worry about how to find more money. This was the overwhelming sentiment expressed in discussion and balloting by a cross-section of Aurora citizens November 16, who overflew the city council chambers and filled the balcony at the first of a series of taxpayer town meetings sponsored by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois.

An analysis of registration cards showed that the audience was made up of members of various trades, professions, of farmers, housewives, public employees and public officials.

The above will give some idea of the importance to every taxpayer of the next session of the General Assembly. In addition, the necessity for legislation to replace the present temporary tax rate limitation laws, and what is being done about it, will be explained at these meetings, and the Federation will to strengthen the tax law to prevent tax delinquency will also be presented.

TIME FOR A NEW PITCHER?

URANI-YUM, YUM—A fearless Texan, ten-month-old Dyan Schenberg of Houston, discovered a strange looking something in a nut bowl. She swallowed it and grew increasingly uncomfortable. Doctors rushed her to a hospital and pumped out her stomach. Their report, delivered to a startled Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schenberg, diagnosed the tasty tidbit as a nugget of uranium ore.

A Waste-Bag Holder
EMPTYING wastebaskets can be a tedious chore unless there is a waste-bag holder to prevent the contents from spilling on the floor. Place the gadget on the back porch or in the basement—any handy spot will do.

A simple framework of lumber strips is all that is required. Best to hang from the four hooks attached to the top members is a gunny sack, but a large shopping bag or grocery bag will serve nearly as well.

The waste-bag holder is 18 inches square and 36 inches high. It is formed of 1 by 2-inch lumber. The illustration shows clearly the method of nailing to assure a rigid product.

Nitrogen From Air Grows Crops

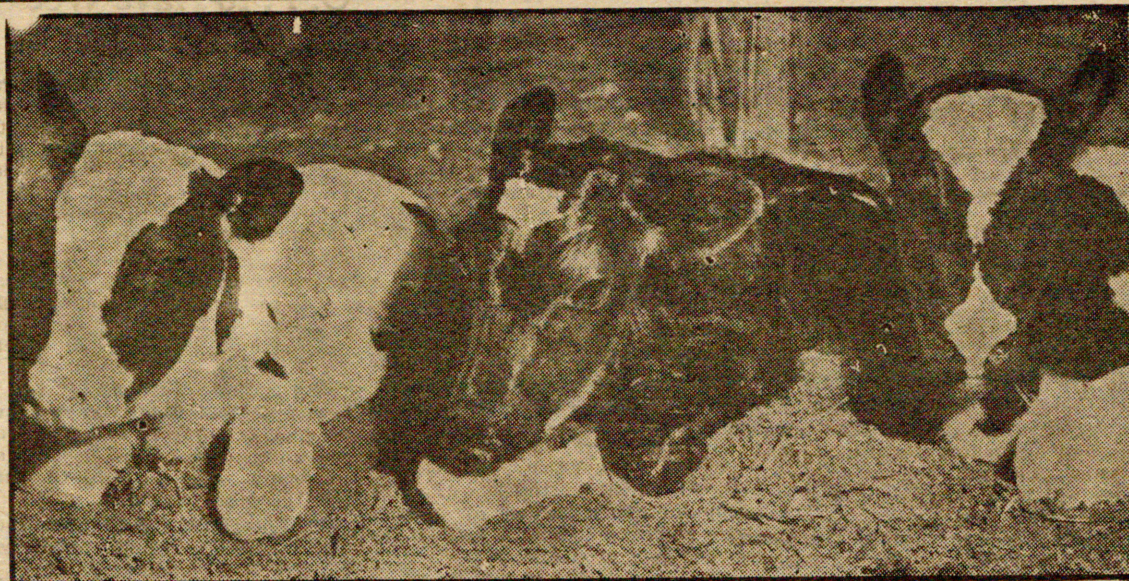

Giant Ohio Nitrogen Chemical Plant Produces Fertilizer Nitrogen

South Point, O. — Ohio air now grows at South Point, Ohio. Through chemical magic, this giant plant, owned and operated by the Solvay Process Division, Allied Chemical & Dye Corporation, extracts nitrogen from the air and combines it with other elements to make Barrett Nitrogen Solutions, used in the manufacture of complete fertilizers; Barrett Anhydrous Ammonia; Barrett Standard Urea Fertilizer Products; and other forms of Barrett Nitrogen so useful to agriculture and industry. The rated production capacity of this industrial giant is over 500 tons of actual nitrogen daily — enough fertilizer nitrogen to grow one-half million bushels of corn!

The South Point plant, which has helped to make America independent of foreign sources of nitrogen, is strategically located to effectively serve expanding nitrogen fertilizer needs in the Mid-west and surrounding territory.

THREE'S A COWED—A five-year-old Holstein cow offered black and white proof, three black-and-white youngsters, that cows can have triplets. A veterinarian said the newly-born crowd, consisting of two bulls and a heifer, show every sign of good health. The "litter" was born on a ranch in Texas, near San Antonio.

Stewardship of Life

Lesson for December 3, 1950

"WHAT'S the death rate here?" asked the stranger. "Same as everywhere," retorted the native son,—"one to a person." Only one to a person, because there is only one life to a person. If you had nine lives or even two, you might afford to waste one (though it's doubtful). But with only one life you simply cannot afford to waste it. Of course you do waste it, in thousands of little ways; and some of these cannot be helped. But if a faucet leaks, that's no excuse for turning the water on full blast.

Dr. Foreman

God Wants You

WITH all due respects to the arrangers of these lessons, the lesson for last week and this one seem to be in the reverse order from what is logical. It is very doubtful whether any one ever understood stewardship of money who did not understand stewardship of life first. Now in almost any church you may hear people singing,

"Were the whole realm of nature mine,
That were a present far too small;
Love so amazing, so divine,
Demands my soul, my life, my all."

Very good; wonderful. Surely these are a devoted brotherhood! But wait, what is this coming down the aisle? A man with a collection plate! Now we shall see... There's a man putting in a quarter, and there's a prosperous-looking lady laying out a five dollar bill. (She bought a $50 cat last week.) But who is putting in his soul, his life, his all? Oh well, they didn't mean what they sang. But isn't it more than half hypocritical to sing one way and "give" another?

The whole realm of nature is not yours to give; but you do have a life; and God wants it. More than he wants what we have, he wants what we are. God created you; God redeemed you; as Paul says, "You are not your own, you were bought with a price."

Not for Preachers Only

A COMMON mistake is to think that a Christian has a choice between being a preacher and not being one. If he decides to give his life to God then he will be a preacher; otherwise he keeps his life for himself.

This is absurd, when you think about it. God has the first claim on every man's life. To be a Christian is to recognize this claim. He has not a bit more claim on the preacher or the missionary than he has on the grocer or the farmer's wife. Stewardship of life means recognizing God's right, it means living your life in partnership with God.

"Who sweeps a room as if Thy laws

Makes that and the action fine," sang a poet long ago. God certainly does not want all his children to be preachers. But he does want his children to live AS his children; and that means stewardship of life.

Stewardship of Time

PICKING up again a thought from last week: Time is the raw material of life. Stewardship of life means stewardship of time. It means spending each day as if God had personally said to you: "Here are 24 fresh, new, unused hours. I shall want them back. You cannot keep them. I shall look at them to see what you have done with them."

What do you do with your time? Does it count for God or against him? And yet—how many Christians there are who if asked to do some kind thing, some simple act of mercy or friendliness, something to help some one else, something that may cost them a little trouble,—how many will say, "Sorry, I'm busy, haven't the time!"

Gift Without the Giver is Bare

JUST put together four sentences from the four sections of the Scripture for this week, and you have the whole business of stewardship of life in a nutshell: "Having gifts, let us use them." "First they gave themselves to the Lord." "Honor such men." "My God will supply every need of yours." No one ever used for God in the service of man any gift which God did not more than repay. The gift without the giver is bare—and so is the giver. But giver and gift, devoted in love to God and man, are rich indeed.

Joliet Jr. College Represented at Meet In Oklahoma City

By Joanne Martie

Representing Joliet Junior college, Jean Elmer Rowley attended the annual conference of the Association of North Central Junior Colleges in Oklahoma City, Okla., recently.

"The three day program consisted of conferences and talks relative to the problems that confront junior colleges and solutions to such, as well as entertainment by members of various junior colleges," stated Dean Rowley.

"The importance of junior colleges is very evident by the representation shown at this conference," continued Dean Rowley.

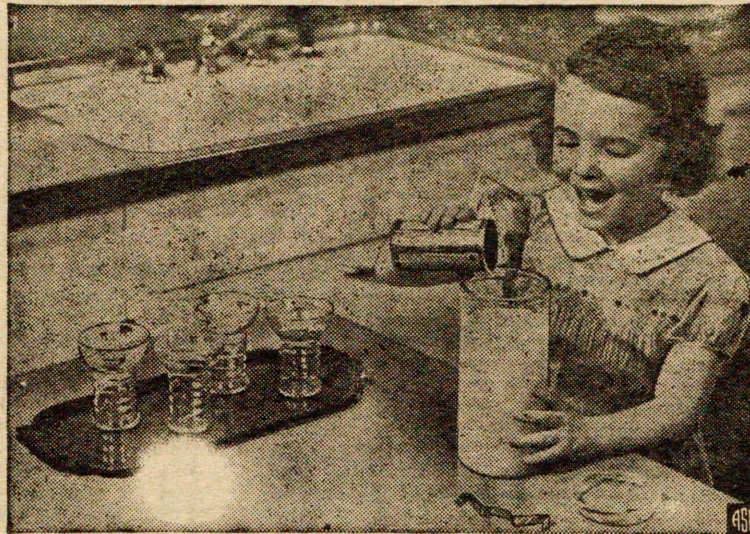

"The number of junior colleges is increasing and the part they play in educating the youth of America is particularly great, as was emphasized by the members present."

The Association includes junior colleges from Illinois, Iowa, Arkansas, Colorado, Michigan, Missouri, Oklahoma, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

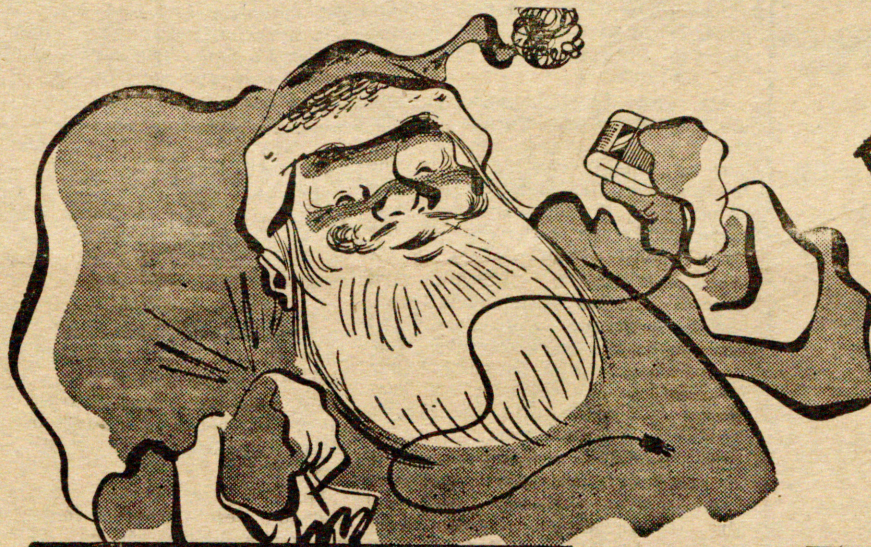

Joliet Junior College will play host to the conference next year when the college celebrates its fiftieth anniversary.

While at the conference Dean Rowley made a report on the junior colleges in Illinois, with special emphasis on the development of the Orientation classes. He was asked to write an article on Orientation for the Junior College Journal, a magazine containing information on junior college problems and institutions.

The No Squeeze Way Is Child's Play

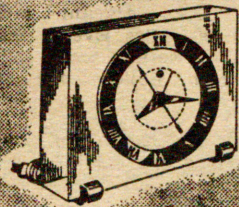

No excuse any more for not getting your glassful of orange juice every morning—they've even taken the squeezing out of this daily chore and made it literally child's play! Homemakers are becoming well-acquainted with Florida frozen orange juice concentrate, a boon to busy breakfast hours. Packed in 6-ounce cans which fit neatly into freezing compartments, the concentrates offer peak flavor plus convenience. To the 6-ounces of the frozen highly concentrated juice, you add 18 ounces of water and stir well just before serving. Best of all is the assurance from government bureaus of the high vitamin content of the concentrate. With new processing methods, all the Vitamin C which has made citrus our most prized and most generally used fruit crop (as well as our biggest!), is sealed into the sterile little cans so that we may enjoy it every day, regardless of season or geography.

She found her mother after 25 years!

For 25 years Mrs. Kathryn McCarty of Chicago had wondered who her mother was and whether she would ever see her.

"I had been adopted when I was 10 days old," Mrs. McCarty writes, "and I had never found trace of my mother. I moved to Virginia after the death of my foster parents. And I was resigned that probably no way in the world could I find my own people.

"Then the letters started and my mother contacted me from Dayton, Ohio. On January 21, the telephone rang and I heard the voice of my own mother for the first time in my life. She was calling from Dayton, saying: 'Hello there, this is your mother!'

"The telephone is a priceless instrument for me!"

No price can measure its usefulness!

Did you ever stop to think how much some of your telephone calls are really worth? Can you remember a call that made you feel your telephone service was "priceless"? We'd like to hear that story. Write, please, to:

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

I Have A "Close Squeak"!

Spent last Saturday morning wandering all over the house. Wherever I went—upstairs or down—I kept hearing a "squeak." Couldn't find out where it was coming from until noon-time when the missus came home from her weekly shopping.

"Listen," I says to her, "hear that squeak?" I started walking real quiet-like across the kitchen and there it went again! "Joe Marsh," she laughs, "that is nothing but your suspender clips rubbing back and forth when you walk!" And darned if it wasn't! From where I sit, I'd been letting a little thing become a serious problem. Like some little difference of opinion or taste will start off a great big argument. I may prefer a temperate glass of beer with my dinner—while the missus likes tea—but we figure that no two people have exactly the same likes and dislikes. So, why get all "het up" about it?

The moral is, check your suspenders—and check your temper when it comes to little things.

Choosing A Christmas Tree

A little care in the selection of your Christmas tree can add quite a bit of pleasure to your holiday season. There's no need to spend half your time sweeping up needles. And there's no reason why your tree shouldn't stay fresh and attractive for several days after Christmas.

G. E. Massie, University of Illinois forestry specialist, says the secret is to select the right tree and then follow a few simple rules in caring for it.

First, find an attractive evergreen. Look for one that's shapey and symmetrical, with stiff, stout limbs. Choose a variety that will keep its needles for at least two weeks. Refuse trees with open spaces, brown foliage or dead limbs. Don't buy a tree that's dried out.

Massie says trees that are attractive when bought may look like the last rose of summer after a short time. That's where proper care comes in.

Make a slant cut at the base of the tree and mount it in fresh, cold water. It's best not to bring the tree into the house until it has been watered and has stood in a cold place overnight. The tree drinks continually, so replenish the supply daily.

Douglas fir, the spruces and juniper are the most common trees sold on Illinois markets. Balsam fir is good but scarce.

Douglas fir has pleasing aroma and good color and holds its needles well. But since most of these trees come from the northwest, they are often dried out by the time they reach Illinois. Spruces are excellent in color. They don't hold their needles well. Pines hold their needles, and their color is fair to good. They sometimes have a brownish cast.

The Upper Room
© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE
THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30

"Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great..." (Acts 26:22.) Read Acts 26:13-20.

Two men were in business together. One was a regular attendant at church; the other professed no religion at all. On a certain Sunday morning they met on the same streetcar; one on his way to church, and the other to play golf. As they separated, the latter said to his companion: "Look here, when are you going to give up all this hypocrisy about religion and church-going?"

Much offended, his companion answered: "What right have you to call my religion hypocrisy?"

"Well," said the other, "we have been partners in business for twenty years. We have met and talked every day. You know that if what you profess is true, it is a hopeless case for me. You never said a word to help me to be anything different."

If the pressure of Christ's touch still lingers in the palm, we do not remain silent concerning His love and His power.

PRAYER

O Father, Thy Son means every thing to me. I know He is the only hope for this broken world. May I not keep silent concerning Him. Give me the courage to make Him known to those whom I shall meet today. In His name, Amen.

The Election Results. The defeat of such stalwart administration supporters as Senators Lucas of Illinois, Tydings of Maryland, Thomas of Utah, and the re-election of such Senators as Taft of Ohio, Milliken of Colorado, and Capehart of Indiana will have the following results:

I. A Temporary road block is placed in the way of further travel down the socialistic highway. The election results should also help stiffen the backbones of those members of Congress who have been voting against their own convictions for New Deal measures because of the threats of radical labor leaders.

II. Since labor leaders, both AF of L and CIO, went all out in their endorsement of Lucas, Tydings, and Thomas, and also went all out against Taft, Milliken, and Capehart, the results can be considered 1, a repudiation of those labor leaders by the "rank and file" of their own unions; 2, a complete justification of the political policy of Sam Gompers, the Grand Old Man of Labor. The result should also mean a readjustment of the future political policies of our labor leaders.

III. Businessmen, professional men and farmers will be heard from now on with more respect in our legislative halls, and more consideration will be given to their problems. This means pressure groups of all kinds will lose much of their present political power.

IV. The repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act now ceases to be an issue—the law is here to stay. We now can hope to improve it and amend it as events warrant. The 23 constructive amendments to improve it, offered by Senator Taft and passed by the Senate but blocked in the house by labor leaders and the Administration, should now be passed.

V. Federal expenditures from now on will be critically scanned and reduced; handouts to foreign nations will be cut back; and the Hoover Committee recommendations for efficiency and economy in government now stand a fair chance of being adopted. This should mean that the tax boost contemplated for next year can be smaller than was anticipated.

VI. The Brannan Plan to socialize agriculture, as well as Government Compulsory Health Insurance have now been placed in mothballs and laid away for some time in the distant future.

VII. The proposed excess profits tax was to have been jammed thru the Congress in the next month will now be given long and careful study and will not be passed until some time next spring, if ever. The tendency in Congress since the election is to depend upon the renegotiation of all war contracts to squeeze out excess profits, to increase surtax rates upon corporations, and to increase individual income tax rates as much as necessary to go on a pay as you go basis. This tax program would accomplish the same ends as the passage of an excess profits tax, would do it in a more businesslike manner, and would not disrupt our national economy by being a hindrance to business expansion and stepped-up production—two vital needs in a war economy.

VIII. The issue of Communism in Government may now be gone into quite thoroughly as a result of the election. A thorough-going investigation into Senator McCarthy's charges against the State Department can be expected. If made, the writer is willing to risk his reputation that Senator McCarthy will be completely vindicated and his charges fully sustained.

Altogether, the results of the election should be very encouraging to all patriotic Americans regardless of party affiliations. One wonders now whose "head should be examined."

"How Farmers Turned Tax Tables" To Be Told Dec. 7

"Farmers can and have blocked non-farm groups, bent on bringing farm property into a taxing unit to pay for improvements he does not want nor need," says C. W. Paarlberg, Chairman, Public Relations Committee of the Cook County Farm Bureau.

"Farmers will have a chance to hear from the mouths of the farmer leaders just how this was done, if they will only take half a day to attend the annual meeting of the Cook County Farm Bureau at Melody Mill, a few miles northeast of LaGrange, December 7th, 1-4 pm. The farmers on this panel will be Henry L. Moehling, President, Palestine Rural Park District; Clarence Bettenhausen, President, School District 140; Gustav Ziemiak, President, Wheeling Township Rural Fire Protection District; August Bestmann, Trustee, Wheeling Township Rural Fire Protection District; Commissioner, Wheeling Township Rural Drainage District; and Robert N. Beers, Secretary, Wheeling Township Rural Drainage District," continues Mr. Paarlberg.

"The Cook County Farm Bureau has started a counter movement against those who have seen in farm property an opportunity to suck them into the local spending spree the country is now in. If you have got hooked once or twice, come out and find out how you can head off the next raid on your farm. It may not be long off. After all it is you, the taxpayer, who is going to pay and pay," says Louis W. Pohlman, President of the Cook County Farm Bureau. "We believe we have set up the machinery for self protection. It is necessary that you give the matter some attention, and at this time get some information on blocking raids on your farm as taxable property. We do not believe in stopping the payment of reasonable taxes. But we are opposed to being called on to build swimming pools, drainage subdivisions etc., which are used by other people. Neither would they wish farmers to misuse them in paying farmers' expenses."

Besides this important panel report, there will be election of directors and reports of the past year's business.

A well known WLS radio comedian often heard on farm programs will be present for the entertainment part of the annual meeting.

Free Information on Household Help Tax

"Do You Have a Maid?" is the title of a 4-page leaflet now available at the Social Security office, the Internal Revenue office and Post Offices. Housewives who employ help can find out in a jiffy whether they have to make reports of their employees and their earnings and pay a Social Security tax. The back cover is a postage-free card already addressed to the Collector of Internal Revenue for the housewife to request a more detailed leaflet and to indicate her choice in the method of making her report. She can make a special report especially for household employees or she can include her maid or other employees on the report which she or her husband makes for their personally owned business.

The booklet explains in very graphic form the "24-50 test" which applies in the employment of household help. This test has to do with the number of days an individual works in a calendar quarter and the amount of cash wages paid to the individual worker during the quarter. It tells you what to do now if you have employees who will be covered by the law after January 1.

In announcing the availability of this booklet, Mr. E. H. Whiteside, manager of the Joliet office of the Social Security Administration said: "A housewife can tell in two minutes if she has to take any action with respect to the help she hires, and her name and address on the postal card attached is the action to take." Mr. Whiteside said that it will be necessary for employers of domestic help to make their request for report forms by early December in order to be sure of receiving them when they are needed for their first reports in April. He explained that farm labor and the self-employed are also new groups covered under the law.

The booklet will be sent to any one who wishes to telephone or write to the Social Security office. The telephone number is 3-9353 and the address is 201 Baskin Bldg., Joliet.

Move Army Schools From Carlisle, Pa.

The Department of the Army has announced the Armed Forces Information School and the Chaplains' school, now located at Carlisle Barracks, Pa., will move to Fort Slocum, New York, and that the Army Security Agency school, also at Carlisle, will move to Fort Devens, Mass.

Relocation of the three schools results from selection of Carlisle Barracks as the permanent site of the reestablished Army War college, which was temporarily located at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, September 29, 1950.

It is contemplated that the three schools now at Carlisle Barracks will complete their moves by April 15, 1951. The Army War college will move to Carlisle Barracks during June and July, 1951, following rehabilitation of the post.

Selection of Carlisle Barracks as permanent site for the Army War college was announced by the Department of the Army June 16, 1950 after the college was reestablished as the result of recommendations by the Army Board on the Army Educational System for Officers. The 1950-51 course is under way at Fort Leavenworth.

Fort Slocum was selected as the site of the Armed Forces Information school because of the availability of adequate accommodations and facilities, and of newspaper, radio, television and public relations centers in New York city.

Previous to 1946, when it was declared excess to Army needs, Fort Slocum was an Army post. From 1946 to July, 1950, it was an Air Force base, and then was declared excess by the Air Force. At present, the post is under care and custody of the District Engineer, New York district, controlled by the General Services Administration, which was to have disposed of it. This action was suspended when world conditions became critical.

The Army Security Agency school currently has a faculty of 25 officers, 85 enlisted men, and three civilians, and a normal student load of 90 officers and 540 enlisted men. The Information school has 76 faculty members and a normal student body of 250 officers and 250 enlisted men. A staff of 14 officers trains 80 students in the Chaplains' school.

Prune Pie Makes Economical Dessert

Prunes, we know, are good for us, and make particularly fitting fare for small fry. Besides, they're plentiful and economical. And even this elegant chifon pie is economical, for it's one of the delicacies so easy to concoct with the new gel-cookery methods utilizing unflavored gelatine.

A good and glamorous selection for an autumn dinner dessert, it's one that will tax neither your time nor your funds.

Prune Chifon Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatine 1 tablespoon flour
1/2 cup water 3/4 cup cooked prune liquid
1/2 cup sugar 2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt 3/4 cup chopped, cooked prunes
2/3 cup icy cold evaporated milk

Soften gelatine in water. Mix together sugar, salt and flour in saucepan; add prune liquid. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Remove from heat; add gelatine, stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice. Chill until slightly thicker than unbeaten egg white. Beat with rotary egg beater until fluffy. Stir in chopped prunes. Whip evaporated milk. Fold gelatine into whipped milk. Turn into 9-inch baked pie shell. If desired garnish with whipped cream and pieces of prune. YIELD: 1 9-inch pie.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

NOAH HAD A WORD FOR IT

HIS LEXICON WAS A SOURCE OF EDUCATION AND A FORCE FOR NATIONAL UNITY.

NOAH WEBSTER'S WORK—AND THAT OF OTHER SCHOLARS AND EDUCATORS INSPIRED BY AMERICAN IDEALS—HAS BEEN POTENT IN THE FUSION OF MANY RACES INTO A NATION THAT LEARNS AND TEACHES ITS DEMOCRACY IN A COMMON TONGUE.

Clair and Gordon Warning of Monongahela, Pa., were dinner guests of their aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Warning. Mrs. Fred Hentsch entertained.

$1.20 DINNER—Cocker spaniel Mitzie devoured a dinner priced at $1.20 and subsequently developed a stomach-ache. The owners, unable to diagnose the cause of Mitzie's discomfort, asked a veterinarian to put his two cents in. After coining several medical phrases, the dog doctor discovered Mitzie had swallowed a half dollar, two quarters and four nickels. Her blue ribbon now has a silver lining.

Friends and relatives gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hentsch Saturday evening as a surprise to help them celebrate their 30th wedding anniversary. Pinocchio was played and refreshments were served.

Home for Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Hostert were their children and families: Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Haag, Culom, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hostert, Tinley Park. Mr. and Mrs. George Boyce, Joliet, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Larimore and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hostert, Mokena.

Arthur Hostert, who has been a member of the navy reserve air force, has been recalled into service effective February 2. He will be electrician mate, third class. He has been employed at the signal department working nights at the railroad tower in Joliet.

Illinois is in the "Big Four" of the nation's bituminous coal producing states, according to the Bituminous Coal Institute, Washington, D. C. To maintain its position, the state produced 47 million tons last year, with 71 per cent or 33 million tons, emerging from underground mines while surface operations accounted for 14 million tons.

About 90 per cent of the nation's harvest of bituminous coal—435 million tons, last year came from 8 states: Alabama, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Penn., Virginia and West Virginia.

Town & Farm
by EVERETT MITCHELL

Farm Commentator, heard Monday through Saturday, 6:15-6:45 a. m. on WMAQ, Chicago, 670 on your dial

An important contribution the farmer can make to the U. S. defense effort is to buy next summer's fertilizer right now. If just half the fertilizer-users in the nation stocked up on their needs this fall, instead of waiting until next season to see what the situation looks like, it would help tremendously to alleviate the growing shortage of commercial storage space.

Most of the crop goals for next year have been released by now. There's to be no cutting down of quotas. Production will be maintained at least at its present level. That means as much or more fertilizer will be needed next year as was used this year.

One way of helping the manufacturer, the railroads, the truckers, and other handlers of fertilizer to speed up their part in the nation's preparedness effort, would be to get that fertilizer order in right now. Get it delivered and stored on your farm, before the ever-increasing load on transport facilities makes it that much more difficult to get your supply next spring. Also, if you order delivery of your fertilizer supplies now, it will help the manufacturer get stock moving out of loaded bins, thus helping him to keep his supply coming without interruption from his supply sources.

Here is one case where stocking up now doesn't mean hoarding. On the contrary, it will aid the present effort of the government to speed up defense measures.

If you need information on the best methods of storing fertilizer, contact your local agricultural agent. Next spring, you'll be glad you used a little forethought and less afterthought.

FIX-UP TIPS
For Farm and Home

Hanging Vegetable Bins

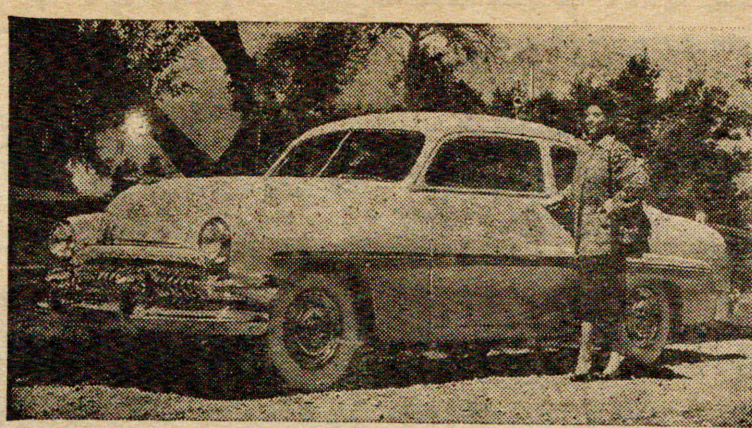

ANY household mechanic can build an on-the-wall or on-a-door vegetable and fruit bin. Because such bins are so useful, at least two should be built to hang one under the other.

Make each bin sufficiently long so it can be attached to the heavy panels of the door. The width is 12 inches and the depth, allowing a half-inch offset for the perforated panel of Masonite quarter-inch tempered hardboard. The three framing members are 1 by 6-inch lumber. Holes one inch in diameter should be patterned into both the lumber and hardboard to provide ample ventilation. Thin strips of lumber should be nailed to form a slide for the hardboard front, so that it may be slipped out for cleaning. Use an unperforated piece of hardboard for the back of the bin.

These bins are ideal for potatoes, onions, oranges, lemons and bananas. Hang them on the kitchen or pantry door, or on a wall accessible to the kitchen.

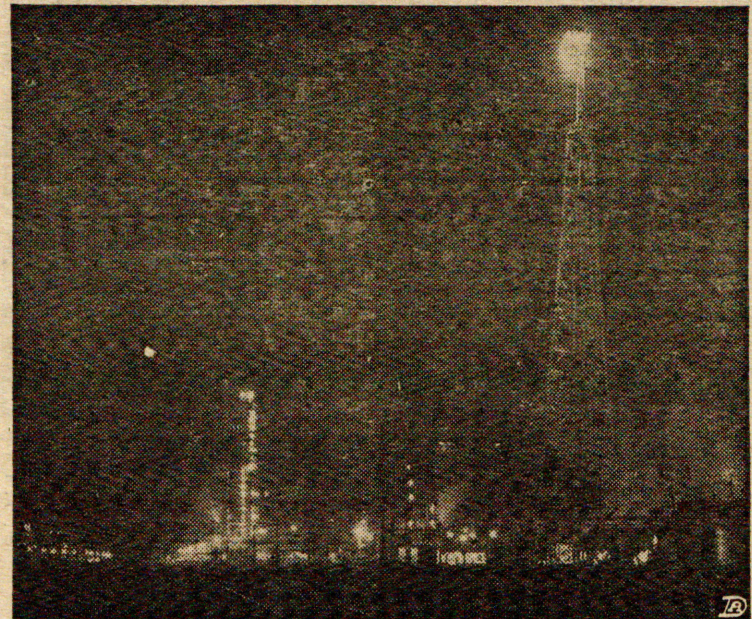

Incorporating Ford Motor Company's new automatic transmission—the Merc-O-Matic—as optional equipment, the 1951 Mercury features many significant styling and engineering changes. Combining a torque converter and a three-speed transmission, the Merc-O-Matic provides a high degree of flexibility, smooth acceleration and pleasant high gear performance. A new grille and front end trim, new rear fenders and quarter panels, new bumpers and an extra-large rear window are the principal exterior changes. Improvements to the V-8 Mercury engine give it added smoothness, quietness and an increase in horsepower to 112 hp. Entirely new exterior colors are featured. Shown here is the six-passenger coupe.

WHEELCHAIR GOLF—Paraplegic veteran Glenn Mayer of Cleveland, O., shows that being in a wheelchair won't stop you if you really want to enjoy one of the nation's favorite pastimes. His instructor is golf pro Packy Walsh of the Chicago Park District. Walsh's brother Marty, also a golf pro, holds the flag.

Fire That Fights Fire

PORT ARTHUR, TEX.—A fitting symbol of fire prevention, this 200 ft. refinery flare burns up fire hazards before they start. Far from wasting gas—as often wrongly supposed—it actually is a safety valve. During emergencies it consumes excess gases before they can build up into explosive concentrations; stands 24-hour guard to burn off possibly dangerous fumes. This unusual view of night light at the Gulf Oil refinery here was taken in a 10-second exposure at F.11 with fast panchromatic film.

"SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

Three weeks ago this column reported to you exclusively that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had secured control of the allocation of materials needed to produce "Camelback," used to recap tires. As was reported, this was an example of a government bureau seizing powers not given to it by law.

At that time it was learned that RFC would not allocate material to the small manufacturers who make up the "Camelback" industry unless they could show impending bankruptcy.

Affecting as it did so many people, publication of this news created great interest. Not only did this arbitrary action endanger thousands of tire recapping companies in every town in the nation, it also threatened dairy truck operators, farmers and many others.

The din of protest in Washington was apparently loud, coming principally from the smaller towns and cities. The result has been that the Commerce Department has now taken over control of allocations; manufacturers of "Camelback" are assured adequate supplies to keep their plants working on a 40 hour week basis.

When Congress reconvenes there may be an investigation of the matter.

The facts are that rubber has bounced back and forth so much in Washington that many Congressmen would like to bring out into the open whose bouncing baby it is.

There has been a concerted drive in certain official quarters to force domestic users of rubber to use natural crude instead of synthetic.

©National Federation of Independent Business

This, despite the fact that synthetic sells for around 13½ cents per pound, and natural rubber, selling before Korea at a range of from 19 to 24 cents per pound, has now soared to more than 60 cents per pound.

Natural crude was in shortage during World War II. Now there seems to be ample supplies for anyone who can afford the price. Congressmen wonder about two points.

Are the large American rubber corporations who own some rubber plantations behind this?

This, they say, would be the obvious avenue to explore, except for one fact; the persistent rumor that the State Department is involved. This then, opens another avenue.

It is known that Britain has almost a world monopoly on natural rubber. "Could it be," it is asked, "that the boys in striped pants who will do anything to save the world—including bankrupting America—are behind this?"

It is well known that Britain needs dollars. Volume sales of natural rubber at inflated prices would give Britain dollars fast.

"After all," Congressmen say, "any nation that socializes its steel industry; that through socialized medicine gives free false teeth and spectacles to all, needs dollars."

"In fact," they say, "if a Britisher gets a headache, the government gives him free aspirin."

"That is their affair as long as the headaches are not passed to Americans."

PIG SWIG—"Snookie," a six-week-old porcine aristocrat, takes a nip from his milk bottle to keep in trim for the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona, Calif. Doing the honors as nursemaid is pretty JoAnn Scott.

BOUNTIFUL BARREL—Not too sure of what it's all about, Mrs. J. H. Orr, left, her son and daughter-in-law examine a "mysterious" water barrel on their farm near Simmons, Mo. It seems that although the barrel is emptied each day, it refills by itself during the night. At least, that's how the story goes.
